BLACKFIN

To whom it may concern:

It is my absolute pleasure to recommend Natalie Robinson as a Production Assistant for your production. I am a series television Line Producer based in New York. As a part of our current Netflix series, we are shooting across the US in many remote locations. In doing so, I am hiring local PAs to join the team and help make the shoots as smooth an experience as possible since the UK production team have very few days in each location to achieve the necessary creative elements.

Natalie came highly recommended to us by the Director of the Oklahoma Film Commission, Tava Sofsky. So it is now my pleasure to recommend her to your show.

Natalie is prompt, energetic, easy going and incredibly hard-working. And I feel overall, that her greatest strength is that she is very reliable. Natalie handles equipment, food, coffee, driving, early mornings and late nights gracefully and timely. She is great with gear and can manage walkies, wrap days filled with drop-off's, early craft service pickups, reporting her mileage accurately and transporting crew all while being very budget conscious.

Please feel free to contact me directly should you want to discuss Natalie's qualifications and experience further.

Many thanks for your time,

Sandi Williams
